

Where does my money go?

CWW aims to deliver value for money and at no profit. It is important to us that we keep your placement fee to a minimum, however to ensure you are not costing your host partners anything, and to cover the costs related to the facilitation, planning, administration and management of your placement, volunteers are asked to fundraise for a placement fee.

We are committed to ensuring transparent and accessible information for all who work with us. Below is an outline of the costs involved and how we assign the fee you contribute to CWW. This is a general breakdown of the total placement fee. If you require further information, please do not hesitate to contact any of the CWW team on +44 (0) 845 2000 342.

DEPOSIT:

Your placement deposit is payable once you have been offered a placement with CWW. Your deposit contributes to CWW costs of:

Marketing, Administration, CWW Information and Enquiry service, Telephone and Face-to-face interviews, Travel to interviews, Reference checks

REMAINING PLACEMENT FEE:

The remainder of your placement fee is due prior to you attending your pre-departure training course. CWW offers an on-line fundraising service which enables you to set up a page for friends, family, and acquaintances to sponsor your work overseas. The money you raise through this service will be deducted from your remaining placement fee. Your placement fee pays for:

Your accommodation and food whilst on placement - A minimum of USD900 per 3 months is sent directly overseas to our Host partner to ensure your food and accommodation is covered whilst you are overseas.

Comprehensive insurance cover whilst you are on placement - Your individual policy costs from £115 per 3 months.

Your placement fee also contributes to CWW costs of:

Your 2 day training course, Placement planning (travel and administration costs), On-going support whilst you are overseas including a 24 hour emergency line, Your placement supervision, monitoring and evaluation, on-going support to your host partner, searching for further volunteers to build on your work if necessary, Your post-placement de-brief and support.
